

Grade	Continental army	British army	Grade
D-	Military- The continental army had a lot of civilians in their army but some of them were good fighters.	Military- The British army was the strongest in the world they were the most trained too and good with Bayonets.	A-
A+	Geography- The continental army knew the area very well and were good at this, they knew where to send troops and what paths to take.	Geography- The british were fighting in a place they did not know they were used to an open field not trees.	D
D	Supplies- They were low on supplies and were not very prepared for the war they did not have that many weapons and were running out of resources. The americans did not send supplies to the army.	supplies- The British had a lot of supplies and Great Britain sent a lot of guns, ammo, and other stuff.	B
D-	Money- They were very low on money and obviously did not do so well with spending money on their necessary needs. The americans did not send supplies to the army.	Money- The British were one of the most richest empire's in the world and that carried to what they fought with.	A
A+	Leadership- Their leader was George Washington and all he cared about was that they didn't loose and that was all that he cared about.	Leadership- General thomas gage was a good leader but he was not as good as George Washington .	D-
C-	overall- British .The colonists had some good leaders and they didn't have very good supplies or money	Overall- British The British has a pretty good because they had good score they have a better	B

		army and have skilled bayonet players.
--	--	---	--

Ethan and Kaitlynne