
Metaphor Writing

"I am a mountain"

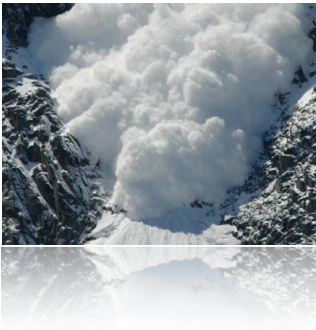

I am like a:

I am like a mountain. Tipped with a ice cold cap of snow. The snow reflects my unstable side that you could slip on at any moment. If you reach my snowy peak and you make a wrong move and you could trigger a horrible avalanche of my built up feelings.

I am like a:

I am like a Mountain. With boulders and rocks that rocks. They reflect my friends and my family the boulders reflect the people I look up too. Some times rock will tumble of the mounting just like sometimes I lose a friend.

I am like a:

I am like a Mountain. From the mountain, the brave goats jump from rock to rock with no fear at all. this represents my many ideas and questions in my head. there is no end to the many questions ideas and useless facts. That will bounce to surface occasionally.

I am like a:

I am like a Mountain. With a small lovely lake. This represents my small pockets of joy and kindness that you will discover if you are around me for long enough. even thou I am annoying at sometimes and many rude there is still kindness and a soft hart somewhere in me.